

SRBR Outreach Fellow Search

Be the first SRBR Outreach Fellow!

- Are you passionate about science communication and have experience with social media use (especially Twitter) and tracking its analytics?
- Do you have at least 2 years of experience in chronobiology and a PhD?
- Can you commit to at least 12 months of appointment at 5h/week?
- Do you want to help spread information about biological rhythms to the world?

The SRBR Outreach Fellow will be a core part of the SRBR Outreach Committee efforts, develop a social media strategy in close collaboration with the committee (Chair: Dr. Céline Vetter), post chronobiology-related news, and provide quarterly analytics for tracking and evaluation of their efforts.

You will get:

- Experience in science communication
- Experience working with the SRBR Board and other SRBR members
- Up to $415/month stipend for 5 hours a week of work hours
- A stipend to attend the SRBR meeting (a $2500 value).

Interested candidates should send a CV, a letter of motivation, and the contact information of 2-3 references to SRBRoutreach@gmail.com by November 1st 2018. Applications will be reviewed until December 1, 2018, with a start date in the range of December 15, 2018 to January 15, 2019.
