Rhythms in the Real World: Translating Basic Science to Clinical, Agricultural, and Environmental Applications

The theme of the 2020 meeting reflects the extent to which biological clocks impact essentially all aspects of ecology, physiology and disease in a wide variety of species.

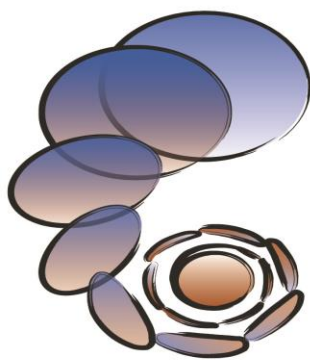

The SRBR meeting focuses on the relevance of biological clocks to science and society. In recent years, discoveries on the role clocks play in human health have exploded, with cutting-edge research revealing the impact of clocks on, for example, sleep, metabolism, cardiovascular disease, mental health, aging, and cancer. We have reached an exciting time, where discoveries first reported at previous SRBR meetings are now being applied to the understanding and treatment of human disease.

In addition, the SRBR meeting holds a Trainee Professional Development Day, one day prior to the start of the main meeting, which provides lectures on topics ranging from new research tools in chronobiology to mentoring and grant writing. Finally, SRBR 2020 will be preceded for the first time by the Chronobiology Summer School. Sponsor funds support the expenses of our most promising trainees to attend all of these events.

Donations to the SRBR (a 5013c organization) are tax deductible. Your sponsorship of SRBR 2020 will enhance the open exchange of ideas, stimulate groundbreaking basic and translational research and enable the participation and training of promising chronobiologists (graduate students and postdoctoral researchers) who will be future leaders of the field. Your donation will not only help us reach our goal of having a long-lasting impact on human health and society but will provide high visibility corporate exposure to the current and future leaders of this burgeoning field. For any of the following donations, your company name and logo will be linked on the SRBR website and displayed in the abstract book and sponsorship acknowledged throughout the meeting.

ABOUT THE MEETING

The SRBR conference is a biennial event gathering hundreds of established researchers, postdoctoral fellows and students interested in various aspects of biological rhythms. The research presented at the conference touches upon various areas of chronobiology, from basic mechanisms to clinical applications, using a broad range of model organisms. Special events and activities are also designed for trainees and junior investigators.

The 2020 meeting location is the Omni Amelia Island Plantation Resort, a venue that has great accommodations, state-of-the-art conference facilities, and many on-site and nearby activities to enjoy the comfort of a lush tropical setting.

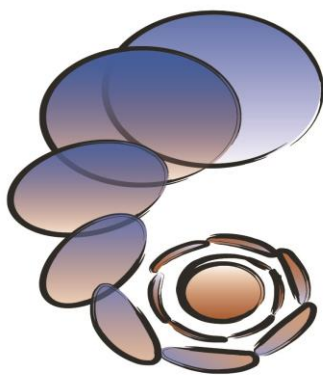

For more information about the conference visit <https://srbr.org/meetings/upcoming-meeting/>

SPONSORSHIP INVITATION

We invite you to participate in the 2020 SRBR Biennial Meeting in Amelia Island, Florida, May 30 – June 3, 2020, by joining as a supporter and/or an exhibitor. This is truly a unique meeting where you will have the opportunity to promote your product or services by interacting with more than 700 chronobiology experts from across the world.

SRBR has exciting sponsorship levels available for this year that make it easier than ever for you to become involved as an event sponsor. We look forward to having you join us at the 2020 SRBR Biennial Meeting!

2020 Corporate Meeting Sponsorship Fee Structure

Below are some highlights of what is included in the different sponsorship levels but please look at our Sponsorship table for a list of additional funding opportunities

Big Ben Sponsor – $20,000+

- 8 Complimentary meeting registrations
- Your company will be listed as a Big Ben Sponsor of a main symposium
- 20 Named Excellence Awards for graduate students and postdoctoral trainees
- Complimentary exhibit table at the meeting

Rathaus Glockenspiel Sponsor – $15,000+

- 4 Complimentary meeting registrations
- Your company will be listed as a Rathaus Glockenspiel Sponsor of a slide session
- 10 Named Excellence Awards for graduate students and postdoctoral trainees
- Complimentary exhibit table at the meeting

Cosmo Clock 21 Sponsor– $10,000+

- 2 Complimentary meeting registrations
- 5 Named Excellence Awards for graduate student and postdoctoral trainees
- Complimentary exhibit table at the meeting

Samrat Yantra Sponsor – $2,500+

- Complimentary exhibit table at the meeting
- 1 Complimentary meeting registration

2020 Exhibit Packages

<$2,500 Sponsor

Includes:

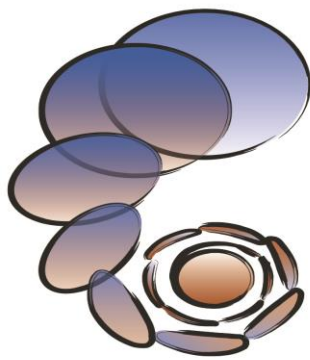

- 1 complimentary registration for exhibitor*
- Company name and logo on the SRBR website and in the abstract book
- Sponsorship acknowledged through the meeting

Look at our Sponsorship Table for other funding opportunities

An exhibitor registration includes a ticket to the welcome reception and the closing dinner. Scientific Sessions are not included in an exhibitor registration.*

Exhibit at the 2020 SRBR! Your exhibit will be located in the middle of all the action for the SRBR Annual Meeting. There is a limited number of exhibit spaces available for this meeting.

Please complete the exhibitor registration page attached and you will then be contacted by the SRBR Executive Office with additional details.
